

Portable Storage for Moving

Portable storage for moving is convenient, stress free, and smart! You can make your move easier by using a portable storage unit. Portable storage units can hold one or more rooms of furniture. You decide when the packing gets done and when the portable storage units get picked up to be taken to your destination.

You can have one or more portable storage units delivered directly to your home. You can pack each unit with a separate room of furniture and belongings or you can combine two rooms in one storage unit. You can pack your belongings according to room, season, or person. Everything is done at your own pace. There is no worry about rushing to return a rental truck.

You can have portable storage units delivered to you. There is no worry about renting a truck, paying for gas, returning a rental truck, or paying for insurance. The portable storage unit can be placed where you want it. There are no ramps to push boxes up because the floor of portable storage units are only six inches off the ground. There is no climbing up a ramp and you lessen your chance of injury with ground level loading.

Once you have packed your portable storage unit, you can lock it and know your belongings are safe. You are the only one who has a key to the portable storage unit. The same company who delivered your portable storage unit will pick it up and deliver it to your destination.

Once your portable storage units have arrived at your destination, you can unpack at your leisure. Since you personally packed each portable storage unit, you will know exactly which ones to unpack first to unload your belongings. The best part is you will not have boxes and clutter sitting around for weeks after a move because everything is in one place in the portable storage unit.
